

FRIDAY, JAN. 26, 1859.

TWO DIABOLICAL ECONOMISTS APPREHENDED.

For some time past obstructions have been placed on the Jeffersonville Railroad. The damage is the property of the company by accidents caused by those obstructions, which are considerable, and serious losses have been inflicted.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the spot. The name of the other we have not learned. There is no doubt but that object was the robbery of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

Since the above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer. Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of discovering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

Sam Smith is once proposed to Viania, near which town the accident had occurred, and remained there three or four weeks, passing himself off as a sporting character with plenty of money. He played poker, drank whisky, but on a road, visited a cigar store, and was then sent to jail for his conduct. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of discovering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further

particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some

kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some

kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

covering the perpetrator employed a Chicago detective.

On Tuesday morning, the 2, A.M., train from

Indianapolis was thrown from the track by some

kind of an obstruction placed on it. One of them is

named Hubbard and he keeps a tavern near the

spot. The name of the other we have not learned.

There is no doubt but that object was the robbery

of the passengers, mala, and aperitif.

The above we have obtained some further particulars. The second man's name is Ulmer.

Hubbard and Ulmer are notoriously bad characters. They are the leaders of a gang of cut-throats

and cut-throats. The Railroad Company had suffered great loss from accidents, and with the view of dis-

